

Southwest Baptist University

November 5, 2004

To Whom It May Concern:

Southwest Baptist University has contracted with Jody Shelenhamer and Shelenhamer Construction Company for three major and several smaller projects in recent years. Jody and his company always have done excellent work in a timely and professional manner.

I have known Jody Shelenhamer, owner of Shelenhamer Construction Company, for the past eight years. Jody and his company have worked with Southwest Baptist University on numerous projects during this period of time. The recent projects include the construction of a new theater for the performing arts in our Jester Learning and Performance Center, the Plaster Athletic Center, and the construction of the new state-of-the-art Meyer Wellness and Sports Center. The concrete work in the theater project was very complex and difficult. Shelenhamer did an outstanding job with our theater as well with all the other projects.

I have always found Jody to be honest and trustworthy. I have a great deal of respect for Jody as an individual, and I am highly confident in Jody's work in the construction field. In the future, when SBU has construction needs, I will not hesitate to call on Shelenhamer Construction Company.

Sincerely,
